NEW YORK, June 15. - [Exclusive Dispatch.]. At 2 a.m., the casualties by the burning of the excursion steamer General Slocum : are as follows: Identified dead 103; unidentified dead 395; missing 400; injured 300.

NEW YORK, June 15.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] It is known at 10 o'clock tonight that over five hundred excursionists were either drowned or burned to death while surrounded by the swirling waters of Hell Gate, between 9 and 10 o'clock this morning. Sidewheel steamship General Slocum, one of the largest of her class in New York harbor, loaded with 1600 excursionists, mostly from St. Mark's German Lutheran Church on Sixth street, and two-thirds of them women and little children, caught fire when entering Hell Gate, East River, just opposite One Hundred and Thirty-eighth street.

When the flames broke out most of the children had been summoned to the ice-cream tables, below decks. The fire is supposed to have started from a cigarette, carelessly thrown in some inflammable waste below decks in the forward part of the boat. The flames spread with marvelous rapidity. Great sheets of fire swept the boat in a few moments from stem to stern. Passengers faced the dreadful alternative of death by fire, or being drawn under by the awful suction of Hell Gate. While one hundred and fifty were leaning against the rail on the upper deck the rail gave way, and all were precipitated into the sea.

DASHED INTO THE FIRE.

Women and men became panic stricken. In the midst of the vailings and fearful struggles to escape the flames, the supports to the upper deck gave way and scores were buried in the flery furnace below. Then all others became wild with panic. Women, insane with fear, with babes in their arms, leaped into the sea to

Scores of tugboats and rowboats on East River hurried to the cene of horror, picking up hundreds from the water, some dead, others half burned, but alive, and still others unscathed. In ome instances whole families were wiped out. In many cases the only one who escaped was the head of the family who was at work in the shop, or elsewhere on shore, while the wife and little ones were off for what was expected to be a pleasant outing away from the crowded lower East Side, where most of the vic-

The captain, pilot and engineers stuck heroically to their posts until the vessel was beached.

Mr. Barnaby, president of the Knickerbocker Steamship Company, owner of the Slocum, says the fire started in a bunch of beach grass which the excursionists got ashore.

ANOTHER ACCOUNT. [BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS-P.M.]

NEW YORK, June 15. The three-decked steamer General Slocum of the Knickerbocker Steamboat Company burned to the water's edge off North Brothers Island, East River, on the way to Long Island Sound, today, resulting in the death through burning or drowning of at least six hundred persons, mostly women and children. Four hundred and ninety-eight bodies have been recovered today, and divers were at work taking bodies from the hold of the steamer. The remains of many persons who leaped into the river, have not yet been found, and it will be many hours

The General Slocum, one of the largest excursion steamers in these waters, left Third street, East River, at 9:30 o'clock this morning, having on board the Sunday School excursion of St. Mark's German Lutheran Church, located on Sixth street. Her destination was Locust Grove, one of the many resorts on Long

The excursion was in charge of Rev. George C. Hass, pastor of the church. The vessel was commanded by Capt. W. A. Van Schaik, one of the best-known excursion-boat captains in New York Harbor. He has commanded the Slocum for about the entire time since she was built, in 1891. The number of excursionists on board today is variously estimated at from fifteen hundred to two thousand, but according to an official statement issued by the Knickerbocker Steamboat Company, owners of the Slocum, the number of passengers was 878, that being one-third of the vessel's licensed capacity. The steamer, after leaving her dock this morning, proceeded up East River, all three of her decks being crowded with merrymakers. Bands played, and the side-wheeler was decorated with flags from stem to stern. Van Schaick, in the pilot-hous had been informed of the outbreak of the fire, and being aware of the danger, decided to send his vessel to shore at One Hundred and Forty ourth streets. At this point there ar a number of lumber yards and sev eral huge oil tanks, and the captain was warned that to attempt to land at this point would endanger the property and perhaps further imperil the scores of people who had already been frightened into a state of almost uncontrollable excitement,

Changing the big steamer's course slightly, he headed her for North rother's Island, half a mile away By this time, the flames were rushin by leaps and bounds from the forward part of the ship aft. The great oper decks, built for excursionists, offered a clear sweep for the fire. As th Slocum dashed forward, the flame caught the stanchion and cabin woodwork, eating and tearing their way across the vessel.

Policemen and deck hands aboard the boat struggled hard to quiet the passengers in vain. The wild disorder increased as frantic mothers sought to find their children, who had been at play about the decks. The steamer's whistle was blowing for assistance, and tugs and other near-by craft answered the call. other near-by craft answered the call. Before any of the boats could reach those who were seen struggling in the frantic women and children began to jump overboard. The current was strong, and there are many whiripools in the channel. The boats that always abound in that vicinity picked many passengers from the water, but these were only a small number of those who weer seen struggling in the

As the fire increased, the struggle to gain a point of vantage at the stern became frightful. Women and children crowded against the aft rall until it gave way, and hundreds were pushed off into the river. After this, there was a steady stream of persons who jumped, or were thrown into the way.

It was just before she beached that her hurricane deck, the supports of which had burned away, fell with its load of women and children, adding to the panic and horror of those on the deck below. Very soon after parts of the second and third decks also caved in. Just before this happened the tire Welfer. fore this happened, the tug Walter Tracey had come alongside the burn-ing steamer, and had been lashed to it. Many of the passengers were taken off by the crew of the Tracey, which remained alongside the steamer which remained alongside the steamer until the tug's pilot house took fire.

The point where the Slocum beached was just off the scarlet-fever ward on North Brother Island. The patients who had been out on the patients who had been out on the porches and lawns watching the ap-proach of the burning steamer were ordered indoors, and the physicians on the island hastened to the assist-ance of those who were being brought ashore through the shallow water. Many of those who leaped from the steamer were carried away by the current, even after she was beached, and were drowned.

The scene on North Brother Island as described by the rescuers was a pitiful one. Body after body was washed ashore or brought in by boats, and added to the long row on the beach. Fifty-three persons died there

REPORTED DESTRUCTION. (BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
NEW YORK, June 15.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Herald's Shanghai cablegram says that a private telegram received here reports that the Vladi-vostok squadron had been destroyed by the Japanese between Tsushima Island and the mainland.

EXTREMELY IMPROBABLE. TOKIO, June 16, 9 a.m.—Although it is rumored a Japanese squadron it is rumored a Japanese squadron overtook and engaged the Vladivostok squadron off iki Island, in the Straits of Korea, it is extremely improbable that there has been an engagement. Rain again favored the Russian fleet. The storm, accompanied by a heavy rain, which swept over the sea in the neighborhood of Tsu Island yesterneighborhood of Tsu Island yester-day, hid the movements of the Rus-sian vessels. One Japanese scouting vessel is reported to have got in touch with the Russian squadron and to have followed it. It probably lost the Russians when night came on. The indications are that the Russian squadron is moving eastward. This increases the chance for an open-sea engagement. The Japanese are purengagement. The Japanese are pur suing, keenly eager for a fight.

SMALL CRAFT BOMBARD. VESSELS LEAVE PORT ARTHUR.

TOKIO, June 15.—[By Asia: Cable. 4 p.m. A flotilla of torpedo boats and torpedo-boat destroyers, under the command of Captain Tsumade a reconnaissance in force near Siau Ping Island yesterday, and bombarded the Russian outposts on the coast to the west of the island. (Siau Ping Island is twelve miles to the west of Port Arthur.) At noon, the Russian cruiser Novik, Convoying ten torpedo boat destroyers, steamed out from Port Arthur. The Russian saore batteries protected these vessels with a heavy cannonade. The Japanese flottlia retreated slowly, firing as it went for the purpose of decoying the enemy to sea. At 3 o'clock in the afternoon, the Russian ships returned to the entrance of Port Arthur.

The fact that the Novik came out of Port Arthur makes it certain that the Russians have succeeded in blasting a channel through the cementaden merchantmen sunk by the Japanese in the entrance to the harmade a reconnaissance in force near

Last Monday night, Japanese vedette boats, protected by torpedo boats and torpedo-boat destroyers, succeeded in reaching the entrance to Port Arthur and planting a series of mines there. FOREIGN EXPERTS' OPINIONS. (BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS-A.M.) BERLIN, June 15.—Col. Gaedke, war dent of the Berlin Tageblatt, legraphs to his paper from Liao ang, as follows: "The situation, in y opinion, is developing to such a lin, that decisive events must soon expected."

poin that decisive events must soon be expected."

The newspapers today discuss the situation of Gen. Stakelberg's corps, which is regarded as being extremely grave. The Kreuze Zietung points out that the attempt of the Japanese in yesterday's fight to turn the Russian left creates a situation similar to that at the battle of the Yalu River, and says that even if Stakelberg is not surrounded, he will find it extremely difficult to execute his four-mile retreat to Kouropatkin's main body.

The National Zeitung expresses similar views, and draws the conclusion that Kouropatkin's only object in making a diversion through Stakelberg is to gain time for the retreat of the main army to Harbin. All signs, the paper adds, indicate that the retreat has already been decided upon.

Of three trustworthy mesengers sent out on the night of June 12, two have returned, having been unable to pass the Russian lines at Kai Chou, and the other is expected to arrive early tomorrow. The two have learned nothing, except that the Russians are becoming more strict about allowing natives to pass through their lines.

AMBULANCE DOGS FOR MANCHURIA

With the encounter between the op-posing fleets imminent and heavy fighting in progress south of Vafan-gow (Liao Tung Peninsula, about fifty-five miles north of Port Arthur and along the line established by the Japanese reaching across the penin-sula from Pitsewo to Port Adams,) news both from the land and sea was awaited with feverish anxiety. The General Staff believes that the Japanese force which attacked Maj. Gen. Gerngross's position yesterday was the advance force of Gen. Nozu's entire army of nearly fifty thousand men. Gen. Baron Stakelberg, who commands the First Siberian Corps, is personally directing the operations at the front, but it is believed that the major portion of his corps is too far north to render effective support. Stakelberg's dispatch, given out last night, came direct to the Emperor.

Nothing further, so far as ascertain-able, has been received thus far, either from Stakelberg or Kouropatkin. Both encounter yesterday, when the fight-ing was of the most desperate character on the Russian left wing. No doubt exists here that the adversaries brought up all the supports possible during the height of the battle and that it was resumed this morning. But with the whole Third Army be-hind Gen. Nozu, there is apprehension that Stakelberg may be unable to get together a sufficient force to suffully oppose the enemy. The a ities here have successfully con up to this time, the number of Rus-sian troops on the peninsula. It now develops that Stakelberg's whole corps has been centered at Kai Chou (about twenty miles south of New chwang.)

PORT ARTHUR'S VALUE. The dispatch of divisions southward is not entirely attributable to a desire to relieve the pressure on Port Ar thur, as it is considered that the for-tress would lose most of its impor-tance to Russia from a strategical standpoint if the squadron there succeeded in escaping and effecting a juncture with the squadron comjuncture with the squadron com-manded by Vice-Admiral Skrydloff. Stakelberg's purpose, the correspond-ent of the Associated Press learns, is mainly to discourage the landing of a fourth Japanese army, which the authorities have reason to believe is planned, on the west coast of the Liao Tung Peninsula near Newchwang, whence it could cooperate with Gen. Kuroki's advance upon Liao Yang. Kuroki's advance upon Liao Yang.

The Japanese failure to follow up the bombardment of the Kai Chou and Suen Chen coast by a disembarkation is believed to be in consequence of the development of Stakelberg's position. Although the Japanese forward movement from Siu Yen to take Stakelberg in the rear looks extremely dangerous, the War Office does not manifest anxiety at the prospect of Stakelberg's communications being cut, saying that at least six days' march of the Japanese are necessary to reach a position com-

ONDON, June 16.—[By Atlantic Cable.] Dispatches to the London and property from Tokio and angle give energy and variety to Cable.) Dispatches to the London morning papers from Tokio and Shanghai give energy and variety to the reports concerning Vice-Admiral Skrydioff's daring raid. They state his fact, heavy and the land in the state his Iki Island in Straits of Korea; that the fleet been destroyed; that it escaped to the eastward, etc. These reports, though none of them is confirmed, give evidence of the anxiety existing in Japan such as few previous incidents of the war have created. The account of the dalloged great battle pear Fuchow, 70 miles north of Port Arthur, appears to be an exag-gerated version of the operations. The Tokio correspondent of the Daily Tel-egram, referring to the engagement, says the report is entirely without foundation.

The correspondent of the Standard at Tokio says, according to trustworthy calculations, the cost of the war to Japan has been wonderfully small, and that no loan will be needed until April.

As evidence of the military resources of Russia, Kasan alone is capable of furnishing 200,000 reserve men, of whom only 50,000 are wanted at present.

It is understood that no further mob-lization is contemplated in European Russia. The Russian capital for the first time since the outbreak of hos-tilities, is experiencing the discomfort-of mobilization. A large number of reserve officers were only given two days notice. The police distributed slips in calling them to the colors and which arouses some speculation has as to whether Skrydioff has returned to Vladivostok, or whether the dispatch was intended to conceal his move

The Japanese fleet is no longer able to support the army, the water along the coast being too shallow to permit the vessels to approach.

Port Arthur is well provisioned. There are 9000 head of cattde there and the firm of which this merchant is a member has just turned over to the authorities 93,000 pounds of salt beef. Other firms have also supsalt beef. Other firms have also supplied the authorities at Port Arthur with provisions. This merchant estimates the number of men at Port Arthur at 50,000. This exceeds the Chinese estimates by 20,000.

OREGON CROP PROSPECTS. (BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.)

PORTLAND, June 15.—According to the government crep reports, the outlook this season in this State is very discouraging. In Southern Oregon not over 40 per cent. of the average crop is looked for, while in Northwestern Oregon, not more than 20 per cent. is anticipated. The weather in the middle western part of the State has been no better than that in the fruit districts and upon this basis it is figured that, taken altogether, the State will produce about 30 per cent. of the normal crep.

The apple crop in Southern Oregon and the apple crop in the Hood River district are expected to be over the average. The crops in small fruits have generally been above the average. The shipments of strawberries alone, from the Hood River district have now been 150 cars.

(BY PIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES)

BUTTE (Mont.) June 15.-[Exclusive Dispatch.] Fearing. that possibly Bessie Driscoll in-tends to fulfill her threat to come to Butte and tell her story to his wife, Dr. O. B. Whitford, it is said, has caused Pinkerton detectives to search the city for the young woman, as it was thought that perhaps she was hiding among her friends in this city, but thus far no trace of her has been found.

One who is in the doctor's confidence justifies the paying of thousands of dollars to Bessie Driscoll by saying the doctor was swayed completely by his generous impulses in desir-ing to help the young woman, who represented to him that other. According to the friend's story, a certain woman in Butte was to give Bessie $5000 if Whitford would give the other $5000. When the time for payment ? came the woman with the money did not appear, and Bessie persuaded Whitford to give her another $5000.

Whitford has a mania, declares his friend, for helping people in distress, his generos-ity in providing for his patients in straitened circumstancces being well known.

Physicians regard the case of Mrs.
Tsitsi as a remarkable one, and when they discovered the extent of the woman's injuries they shook their heads and declared that she could not live. That she is now so well on the road to a complete recovery is noted with much interest by the medical fraternity, and is another striking example of the success that has attended experiments in skin-graft-attended experiments in skin-grafting.

The old adage that misfortunes never come singly was exemplified in the case of this brave little woman. She took service as a lady's maid with an American family, traveling in her native country, and came with them to America, living with this family for some time at Santa Barbara; but later she married a bright young Japanese, and they had a happy home in this city.

In the course of time little Georgia came to claim a place in the household, and she was fairly worshiped by both father and mother. When the baby was but two months old the father took ill and died, and the young mother was almost heart-broken. But there was the little one still left to live for, and the care of the child assuaged the bitter grief.

Last January, while washing her infant, beside an oil stove, the clothing of Mrs. Tsitsi caught fire. The child was quickly thrust out of danger, but the woman was burned fearfully from her breast down to her feet.

She was hurried to the California Hospital, but those who saw her condition had no hopes of saving her the contest, and although the work was trying sometimes. I enjoyed it.

"I feel that the experience will be of very sreat benefit in the future. I am positive that the experience alone has been worth at least three months' schooling to me. I have been very well paid for the summer's work. I am sure. "I heartily recommend The Times' method of conducting such a contest." Aubrey St. Clair, an East Los Angeles boy who won a scholarship last year, volces his appreciation in this manner. "I am very glad to write and tell you how much I appreciate the kindness of my friends who so willingly made it toossible for me to attend that fine school. The Los Angeles Military Academy. I feel that it was just the school I needed, and I like it very much, and I think it just the thing for a boy. My parents say I have progressed more than they expected. I am very grateful to The Times, which gave me the opportunity to get a scholarship."

—Miss Mabel Brown of Colegrove, who won a scholarship in the Los Angeles Business College, has since graduated, and now holds a good position in a large commercial house, made this acknowledgement:

"I want to acknowledge my gratitude to The Times for making such an opportunity as this possible, and to the faithful and conscientious teachers employed by this college, who are doing everything in their power to advance my interests. I am required to work very hard, yet it is interesting and pleasant work, and I am making very satisfactory progress."

Richard Sedwell a bright, active lad from Fernando, who won a scholarship in St. Vincent's College, sald after his victory:

"This great contest that has just closed has taught me one great lesson: that is that you can not win anything without working for it."

Subsequently he wrote to the Scholarship manager:

"I am very happy to be able to say that I am getting alons fine at St.

Subsequently he wrote to the Scholarship manager:

"I am very happy to be able to say that I am getting along fine at St. Vincent's. I am trying my best to do well. What I like about my teachers is that they insist on thoroughness, and that they are always anxious to assist us in our difficulties.

"I am very glad that I chose St. Vincent's, and the longer I am here the more I like it."

Practically all the scholarship winners have expressed the same degree of satisfaction with the schools of their choice, and none seem to regret their experience in the contest which proved most valuable to them.

BAD OUTLOOK FOR CORN. An advice from a leading Southern corn packer says: "The outlook for the coming crop of corn is most gloomy. Farmers, in many instances, have been forced to replant the fields three times, owing to the poor quality of the seed, and in some cases the 'stand' is so poor that under the best of conditions not more than half an average yield is looked for. The seed has been ahe poorest we have ever known, a bushel showing no better results than a quart did last year." Similar advices have been received from State corn-packing interests. A prominent broker discussing the situation yesterday said: "From all the reports in hand, covering the principal packing sections in New York State and Maryland, we are forced to conclude that present sales of future corn will cover the output this season. Farmers are complaining seriously about the lack of germination in the seed, and as a good deal of the acreage will be barren there will be some difficulty in meeting the heavy sales made at the opening prices. We know of no packers who are willing to contract now for future."—Journal of Commerce.

Presentation of a Clever Little Pi by the Pupils of Casa de

The last rays of the sun-had slanted from the west yesterday afternoon when an audience at the back of the beautiful Casa de Rosas waited with breathless interest the figures of the girlish players that were to liven the exquisite setting of nature for that clever little play. "The King's Sonclever little play, "The King's Sonin-law." This play was written by Miss Grace Dennen and that lady came forward with a little explanation of the king and his kingdom, of the beautiful but refractory daughter, of the King-of Planders, and of a duke with a price on his head, that furnishes ample material for a rarely spectacular production that has no shifting of scenery, only the falling dusk that lends enchantment to the many truly romantic situations, and the electric lights that are switched on by and by, shining through the soft red and green of Japanese lanterns and lighting with a gentle glow the wealth of leaf and shrub and flower and vine. A stairway furnished the staging for some of the events, but most of the play was performed on the carpet of green grass.

Here the King, and a decided King he was, gave his stentorian edicts, his majesty in royal purple and emilie being played by Miss Margaret Holden, while the lovely princess, who was beautiful enough to fit the finest fairy story of them all, played her sweet part well, the Princess Lisa being given by Miss Eva Wolcott.

The high chancellor was Miss Isabel Works and the funny, funny chamberlain, was given by Miss Hazel Benton, the unhappy, but finally successful Duke Osric, being taken by Fayette Murray, and the jolly servant by Miss Ruth Dennen.

The handsome and effective contumes of the ladies-in-waiting, the ambassadors, the dukes and even the captain-at-arms, made one sigh, for that day of picturesque garbing, and enoy the enthusiasm displayed by the youthful players.

one's mind was ushered in by that matchless intermezzo from the "Cavaliero Rusticana," when out from the palace comes the procession, of white robed ruins followed by all the court, devoutly returning from prayer, the princess comes and sees her loyer in the deepening dusk and there one gets a pretty bit of play as she drops her prayer book. Then another scene shows the gay masqueraders as, they cease dancing and issue from the palace, and it all ends well as so beautiful a play should end.

This afternoon there is a reception at the Girls' Collegiate School, the place being thrown open to all visitors between 3 and 4 o'clock, after which the graduating exercises will take place in the garden. Commencement Exercises to Stanton Relief Corps Furnishes Hand-, be Held Tonight.

Some years ago the graduating class at the University of Southern California inaugurated the custom of planting a root of ivy against some portion of the college walls, and the 'ivy ceremony" has now become a regular part of the class-day exercises. At 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon the lozen candidates for the bachelor's degree, arrayed in their black gowns and mortar-board hats, assembled in front of the College of Liberal Arts and performed the annual planting.

The hole in which the vine was to be planted had been previously dug against the east wall of the college, close to the main entrance, and, when the class and guests had assembled Charles Francis Seymour, president of the class, introduced David John Pakchovan, the Armenian graduate, who gree, arrayed in their black gowns and

and Marshail Morgan Cloud inserted in the wall of the college, in a niche

A Gang of Swindlers is Just Now Engaged in an Effort to Palm Off Gold Washed Nickels Upon Unsuspecting Citizens of Los Angeles as Quarter Eagles.

If a stranger, or for that matter one who is not a stranger, tries to pass what appears to be a $5 gold piece upon you today, look carefully at the coin: see that its edge is properly milled, notice that under the eagle there is the legend indicating that the coin is worth $5. Such precautions may save you just $4.95 and it's worth the trouble to save that amount.

Such is the advice which the members of the detective force of the po-lice department would like to instill into the minds of every person in Los Angeles today and there is reason for it. If every man and woman in the city could be induced to carefully examine the $5 gold pieces which they may be called upon to handle, they might put a stop to one of the smooth-

That supposed spirit responded and in the darkened room seemingly began wandering from place to place answering questions, which Mrz. Savoy put to it. Unfortunately for the spirit, it went too near Mrz. Savoy, and that lady grabbed it and held on. She found it a very substantial spirit, which struggled and screamed, and Mrs. Savoy by a deft movement sent flying the mask the "spirit" was wearing; there before her stood Mrs. Crindle, very much in the flesh.

Then there was a riotous demonstration. Mrs. Savoy screamed for assistance and Officer Livesey responded. H. E. Upon the arrival of the police the Crindle woman was cowering in a corner and it was necessary to wrap her in a blanket to take her to jail. Crindle was also arrested, as were Beeson and Baxter. The Crindles were charged with violating the city license ordinance and the others with resisting an officer.

Before the trouble started Miss Myra Mausy had been told that she was conversing with the spirit of her mother. The expose was too much for her and she relapsed into pretended unconsciousness, from which she was aroused by the suggestion that she be sent to the Receiving Hospital.

Up to midnight the fake medium and her husband had not been able to give ball, and their assistants, who tried to act as bouncers, also remained in fall.

The history of this outton runs through a period of seventeen years, but just how it originated is a misty legend. Realizing that it would be an injustice to the undertakers to compel them to move after they have become established, the committee will recommend to the Council that an ordinance be passed restricting that an ordinance be passed restricting the district within which such establishments can be conducted to the business and semi-business sections of the city. But when the memorandum book came t obe examined there appeared no name or dates, just certain figures. Teodoro said that he couldn't write but could make figures all right. But the memorandum book did not afford very conclusive evidence and he had another try. He said that when he cashed the last check Mrs. Harvey took $20 of it, and that she had never given him a cent back. His mother came forward to aid her son if she could, but her testimony was merely a repetition of his statement that he had borrowed money from Mrs. Harvey, and had paid some of it back again.

For the time being it seemed as if the real estate deal had dropped out of sight, and for all practical purposes it had. Not wishing to spring the matrimonial purchase price on the court, the defendant was left without any defense save the very lame one of borrowed money, and that he could not prove. The court gave judgment for $190 in favor of Mrs. Harvey, this being the amount claimed, with cost of having an abstract Prepared and costs of suit.

"Til go mad if I go back to that nurse," she half soboed out, as she wiped her face with her handkerchief. Quite a number of those in the court-room stood by waiting for the scene that was expected when the nurse attempted to tak: hold of Mrs. Berg. By habit, or for some sither reason, attendants appear to treat all insane patients in court before she objected to the nurse taking her by the arm as if she was rebell'ous, and a scene followed. Yesterday the nurse again sought to catch hold of Mrs. Berg by the arm, and the previous scene was refinacted. The patient essayed to throw off the tight grip of the nurse, but the clutch was on her arm again framer than ever so that Mrs. Berg gave a little cry.

"Don't pinch me," she said. "You're a brute; you're the worst woman I ever saw."

Yesterday Mrs. Ida A. La Du was before Judge York applying for a divorce, but owing to the husband interposing a demurrer to the complaint, the decree was not granted out of hand. The demurrer was overruled and then La Du refrained from taking any further action in the direction of a contest. Just why this was so did not clearly appear, so Judge York said he would take the case under advisement.

He is filled with the idea that he has im-mense wealth, and that not only can he make people happy by assisting them, but is winning an immense increase to his possessions all the time. He announced his intention, too, to build churches, and engage in other popular enterprises.

It is believed the present action comes as the result of several strenuous objections lodged by players who have been relegated to "sagebrush" circuits, when, according to existing laws, they should have been released completely, thus giving them a chance to sign with other league clubs.

It is an undisputed fact that nearly every club in the National and American leagues has been following the practice of farming out players. Ostensibly, these players have been sold outright to smaller clubs, but the necessity for the return of the players thus disposed of or the unexpected improvement in form has been the signal for his return to the former club, thus showing a string of some kind was attached. There were a number of other players who came in tonight too late to join in today's tournament, but they will be ready to take a hand in tomorrow's games. Tomorrow the tournament will open up promptly at 9 o'clock, and the play will be open to members of the association only. Twelve teams from twelve different clubs will participate in the games tomorrow.

There is some indication that Kid Solomon fought on the level Tuesday night, as he put out the yailer sheet's much touted phenom, Kid Rico, in a punch, Rico lasted a minute, then went down and out. The management called off the preliminary on account of the small house, and the referee missed his train, not arriving until 10:20, "All told, it was the poorest excuse for a fight ever seen even in San Bernardino. ROAD RACE LAST OF JULY.

Annual Contest Not for the National Holiday.

Proper Railroad Service is Not to be Had.

Country Runs on Sundays to be Continued.

ago there will not be any bicycle road

There will be a road race, but not until July 24 or July 31.

These dates were agreed upon yesterday at a meeting of the Cycle Board of Trade in regular monthly session, and as a road race has been under consideration for some time it did not take the board very long to agree upon it as a fixture. The reason that the event will not take place on July 4 is that the Los Angeles-Pacific Railroad Company is not the least bit anxious to favor the race on July 4, as it would seriously interfere with other railroad favor the race on July 4, as it would seriously interfere with other railroad plans on the holiday by mixing up the train service. The troileys are always heavily taxed on July 4, as far as equipment is concerned, and the officials have intimated that it would be more convenient to the company if the race was on some other day.

The change in the date of this annual affair will in no wise affect its popularity for the local wheelmen always look forward to it as the one real cycling event of the year, and prepare for it accordingly. Billy Loos, who generally has more to do with the management than any other man in lown, stated yesterday, that in his opinion the race this year would have a larger number of entries than any ever run, judging from the number of inquiries he had already received, and from the number of new men who are asking about it.

It is more than probable that the list of prizes offered this year will be greater than during any other year, for, in addition to prizes always donated by the merchants, the Cycle Board of Trade has some money in its treasury that can be ueed for this purpose if necessary. The intention is to offer a big list in order to attract some of the riders from the northern part of the State if possible, in order to give to the race something more than a strictly local color.

ANOTHER SUNDAY RUN.

ANOTHER SUNDAY RUN.

The Cycle Board of Trade at its meeting yesterday decided to have regular Sunday runs to near-by points after the style of the run to Griffith Park several weeks ago. The next run will be in July, and Santa Monica will probably be the objective point.

"Tennis Week" Will be Celebrated This Summer at a New Spot-The Racket Experts Decide on a Big Change-Central Courts Association Holds Another Meeting.

"Tennis week," the annual championchip tournament fixture of the. Southern California Lawn Tennis Association, will be fittingly celebrated this summer at the new courts of the central association, situated at South Pasadena, beginning Monday, August 1. This is a radical departure from the custom of previous years, when the big event of the game locally was considered to be as much a Santa Monica affair as the North Beach bathhouse. So sweeping a change was made possible yesierday afternoon at a meeting of the Central Courts Association, practically all the head-liners of the racket and ball sport being members, consequently able to elect where they shall play. The Southern California Lawn Tennis Association, being obsolete, is practically succeeded by the Los Angeles organization, whose home is completed, and will be formally opened to the tennis set with the first day's tournament play August 1.

A. C. Way, a director of the new tennis association, gave several good reasons for the change made yesterday. He said:

"While there are some advantages in playing off the 'big show' of the tennis year at Santa Monica, the principal reason for it in the past has been the lack of suitable courts for the purpose in town. We have these now; there are none better; they are most accessible; the fare is less; more people will attend the play, and I am satisfied it is a good move from every point of view. I also believe it will have an excellent effect in stimulating interest in the game. It will be possible for spectators to leave Los Angeles at 2:30 in the afternoon and see most of the matches. When the tournament was played off at the Casino courts in Santa Monica, a long ride down, and a change of cars was necessary. I believe may did not take the trip just on 'that account.'

At yesterday's meeting a gratifying increase in membership was noted, and the association was found to be on a satisfactory financial basis. It expects to boom tennis vigorously from the start, the men back of the deepest dye.

New YORK HARBOR HORROR. Not since the burning of the Iroquois Theater in Chicago, some six months ago, have the sympathies of the nation been stirred by so proburning of the big excursion steamer General Slocum, in New York harbot yesterday morning. Like the Chicago calamity, this one claimed women and children for the larger proportion of disaster, while fire was the original cause of the loss of life, comparatively few persons were burned to death. In the Iroquois disaster, most of those who lost their lives, numbering some six hundred and more, were suffocated in the terrible crush of panic-stricken humanity, or were trampled to death under the feet of the surging mass seeking escape from the terrible death-trap. In the New York calamity the deaths were mostly by drowning, although it is believed that a number of persons were burned to there will be a split in the death, and that their remains will be found in the vessel's hold, when the débris shall have been removed.

Truly, "in the midst of life we are in death." It is difficult to conceive a calamity more heartrending than that which has brought sorrow unspeakable to so many homes in New pleasure bent, composed mostly of doubt, though Republican majorities a distressing evidence of the tendency women and children, numbering about one thousand persons, suddenly and and Rhode Island.

Beginnin States are regarded as in description and distressing evidence of the tendency to overcrowd public conveyances of all kinds. Vessels, railroad trains and street-cars are too often so crowded as street-cars are too often so crowded as the menace of death in one of ! most terrible forms. The wild panic that followed the breaking out of the Such scenes can be appreciated only by those who have gone through them and have survived. Driven back by the swiftly-advancing flames, hundreds were forced to choose between the fearful alternative of probable death by fire or that of probable death by water, and chose the latter. Of the hun-dreds who jumped overboard to escape the fire, many were drowned. In some cases strong swimmers jumped overboard with several children clinging to them, only to be borne down to death by the frantic struggles of the terrified little ones. Others were able to swim ashore, and others were picked up by the boats which were quickly sent to the res cue. The exact number of lives lost will not be known for several days. Conservative estimates place it at not determined with certainty! It is to be presumed that no reasonable effort will be omitted to fix the responsi bility for the disaster, or to establish the fact, if such be the case, that it was an unavoidable accident for which no one is to blame. Of course there will be a thorough investigation, and it is not improbable that through it some new light may be thrown aster. If it shall be found that it was the result of neglect or carelessness or non-compliance with the law's requirements, no punishment will be too severe for those found guilty, if the

In other words, no union which is even remotely associated with the main bodies of unionism which have been responsible for the outrages in Colorado will be permitted to exist in Cripple Creek district.

Thus the people of Teller county reach the heart of the matter and can majorities west of that mountain barrier, particularly in the Mississippi adopt the only measures which can be effective. One note of warning should be sounded to the good people of Teller county. It is not to be supposed that the Western Federation of Miners will forever cease its attempts "unionize" Cripple Creek. When this present trouble has "blown over," when quiet and law and order have been restored, when prosperity and industrial activity have diverted the minds of the law-abiding people of that district, the federation will undoubtedly begin to slyly renew its campaign. It will try to smuggle its friends into the mines, to go among the miners quietly and them to organize again and to more uprisings. Careful watch must be kept. North America: the buffalo is the next rarest: cougars, or American mountain lions, are harder to get than the famed African lions; orders for live moose are among the hardest in the world to fill; antelope, from their extreme delicacy, are the "risklest" animals to handle; grizzly bears in full vigor are among the most valuable products of the United States in the wild animal merket; mountain sheep are always splendid stock in trade.

It was from a Count in Germany, engaging the veteran to take him, his son and a party of titled sportsmen of the Fatherland on a two months hunt for big game in the Jackson Lake country, and a tour of the Yellowstone Park. Now how can the roads haul oil at 12½ cents per hundredweight and make any money. Buthe, an importer of animals and birds, who occupies the entire five-story brick building at that address. The python, the largest in Ruhe's collection, is as thick as a man's thigh at the middle of its body.

Discovering an exit from its cage and a window of the room being open the python slid through, and its glistening mottled length reclined for ten feet along the signboard outside, while its head and neck waved searchingly to find a pathway of escape. As the number of spectators grew startled cries were heard. These apparently alarmed the python, for it turned away from the building amd darted a menacing head at the crowd below. The undulations of its restless body gave rise to the fear that it might at any moment drop to the pavement, and this added to the excitement of the crowds.

Policeman Flanders of the Eldridge Street Station telephoned for the reserves. While the police with difficulty were opening the street to traffic, the python slowly dragged its length back through the window and into its cage.
